WARREN FIREMEN rushed to the M. J. Parrish residence at 102 Connecticut ave. about 1:30 Friday afternoon to put out flames that caused approximately $2000 damage to a car garage. A good head start prevented firemen from saving the structure of being completely gutted.

SERVICE. As a community service project, Girl Scouts of Troop 70 (representing Jefferson and East Street schools) gathered at the First Lutheran Church Monday to prepare materials for the coming visit of the TB mobile X-ray unit.

The unit, sponsored by the Warren County Tuberculosis Society, will be available for chest X-rays in the borough and county starting June 10th. Its two-week schedule will be announced later.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

THE COMPANY GROWS

We are pleased to hear so many in high places now making kind noises about the Kinzua dam. They sound very familiar to our ears, probably because we were writing them as a part of the supporting minority back in the days when the Kinzua dam was a monstrous thought in these parts. We thought so too until we discovered a couple obvious kinks in the armor of those who were attacking the structure. Further investigation tumbled their entire fort, and the 1956 flood washed it away.

Amazing is the deduction of some who finally admit that engineers probably are best qualified to discuss engineering problems. Obviously some of these have been listening to important people, such as major Pittsburgh interests. The light shines when the campaign dollars do the generating.

But wet feet and the resulting cries of public opinion didn't hurt, though petitions failed to move some of our elected officials until major contributors added their bleats to the chorus. When you combine votes, and dollars there are few officials who will try to dam the water with their naked ignorance.

The wild suggestion that we divert water to Lake Erie may have stirred the businessmen along the Allegheny. They need water for their plants, and probably could use more of it in those dry late summer and early fall months. At least they could use more clean water.

To waste our flood waters by dumping them into Erie would very expensively solve only part of the problem. We also have the unsanitary flow of hot months to face. The housing problem per cubic inch of water becomes mighty tough on bacteria when you reduce the flow past a given point from two thousand to two hundred cubic feet per second. You couldn't float a life raft filled with congressional hot air at the low stage and the odor must make even a bacillus introvert wish for the life of a butterfly.

We were happy to read that the clean streams boys were enlightened by men who know better. The clean streams gentlemen were so confused that they were saying good water will not provide recreational advantages. They were so near-sighted about the lake formed by the dam that they forgot there were hundreds of miles below it which would enjoy a regular flow of fresh water as the result of the construction.

But a few speakers who have taken a few minutes to figure the problem out attempted to provide them with the truth and maybethey will join the throng which now is lining up to support an effort which is a major part of the overall plan to develop and get the most out of our natural resources.

We probably should burn when papers laud Congressman Gavin as the man who has fought for this necessary project for many years. In fact, there are times when we suspect he almost believes it himself. But we are willing to forget the opposition he provided against the dam if he now sells the idea to those who appropriate the money therefor.

We, of course, won't believe his change of heart, as expressed at a flood meeting in the Warren county court house last year, until we see the color of government money. A congressman always can cement relations with the home front by speaking loud in press quotations and trading quietly in the cloak rooms. This is no boondoggle and he should be able to sell it if his arguments are as strong as his lungs. (And as willing.)

The most encouraging aspect of the Kinzua dam campaign is the support given it by Pittsburgh. We remember when those who opposed it were attempting to obtain backing from Pittsburgh industrialists. They were using transportation as their front, and their leader told us that if he could line up Pittsburgh the locks would be built and his job would be done.

Pittsburgh now is going for the dam and in big chunks of industrial and labor might. Maybe the job is done, and for the right and the just cause.

The engineers finally have come through with typed arguments that can be used by press and radio in favor of the dam. The lie has been given to mud-soaked banks, short life due to siltation, danger of collapse, diversion, small dams, and the fabrication that the dam would forever block navigation.

With this kind of information the press can do a job that provides the real truth for the public and in turn the voters can definitely express their wants to their elected representatives. Add the men of influence who want enough water to keep their plants supplied by a means of control that will keep it out of their buildings and you have a fairly strong front.

Perhaps we should start thinking about what we can do to make the most of our new situation. If we are not fully aware of the potentials we may not make the most of what can be. If this is to be built we in the area should attempt to have it fit into our plans for this section. This will be our next hurdle.

HOMER GEORGE PERKINS

Tidioute Student Wins Teen - Age Road-E-O

Homer George Perkins, a student of Tidioute high school, scored 473 points out of a possible 500 to drive off with top honors in the annual Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce Teen-Age Road-e-o held in Warren last Saturday.

Second in the contest, which was entered by some 60 area students, was Dave Benson of Sheffield high. Patty Cowles, the first girl to ever place in the local contest, was third for Youngsville high school. The winner of the Road-e-o received a $50 cash award, a plaque and certificate, and the right to participate in the state contest at Hazelton on June 8. In addition his school was presented the safe driving trophy.

To the second place winner went $25 and the third received $15, along with plaques and certificates.

The two high scorers from each high school were: Jim Gough and Robert Yerg of Warren; Miss Cowles and Beverly Atkins of Youngsville; Benson and Bob Miley of Sheffield; Perkins and Richard Anderson of Tidioute; Dolores Dexter and Kenneth Atkins of Eisenhower.

Bill Dyke was the general chairman for this Jaycee youth activity project.

GROVER C. GOUKER, Jr.

Grover C. Gouker, Jr., newly-elected president of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker at the annual Jaycee Inaugural Ball to be held at the Woman's Club June 1.

The 34-year-old Hanover resident is making the Warren visit one of the first as he begins a year-long tour of duty. He has been a member of the Jaycees for 10 years and has held numerous local, state and national offices.

Due to the interest that has been created in this year's banquet, chairman Harry Segel has announced a deadline date for reservations on May 25.

President Loses Budget "Fight"

By Doris Fleeson

WASHINGTON. -- President Eisenhower has lost his budget fight. A runaway Congress is going to make an economy record because amid the present confusion it seems a political necessity to do so.

The realists among them know that they will have to restore some of the cuts next year. They admit they will have to accept the President's judgment in any real pleas of crisis that he chooses to make later.

But they are satisfied that they will be taking the personally prudent course in view of the President's failure to rally the public or to sway important segments of the press which have left him on the issue. Why this is so now belongs to history, whose indubitable first chapter will be that press conference last January at which Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey predicted a "hair-curling depression" if spending trends were not altered.

The issue to which the President must now turn his attention is the repair of confidence in the government's credit. It is really much the most important. Supplemental appropriations are an accepted technique, but mass emotions can get out of hand.

Reputable financial journals finally are speaking freely of the debt crisis. The figures for the first four months of 1957 with respect to E, F and G government bonds are in. They show that investors cashed in $3.2 billion worth of these obligations but bought only $1.6 billion.

It is such developments which pinch the Treasury for cash and send it to the increasingly expensive short-term money market while it has to postpone "indefinitely" plans to refund maturing obligations with a long-term bond issue.

Part of the President's problem is the change of management scheduled for the Treasury this summer. Humphrey has stayed longer already than he wished, and when he goes, he will take Under Secretary W. Randolph Burgess with him. Politically, their departure is timely, for the Senate Finance Committee is about to investigate the whole question of government debt and money management.

But men approached to take their places realize they will be moving into the hottest spot in Washington and facing cruel problems of operation of the department. Also, in the present inauspicious atmosphere, heavy new borrowing lies just ahead and the newcomers would have to struggle with it.

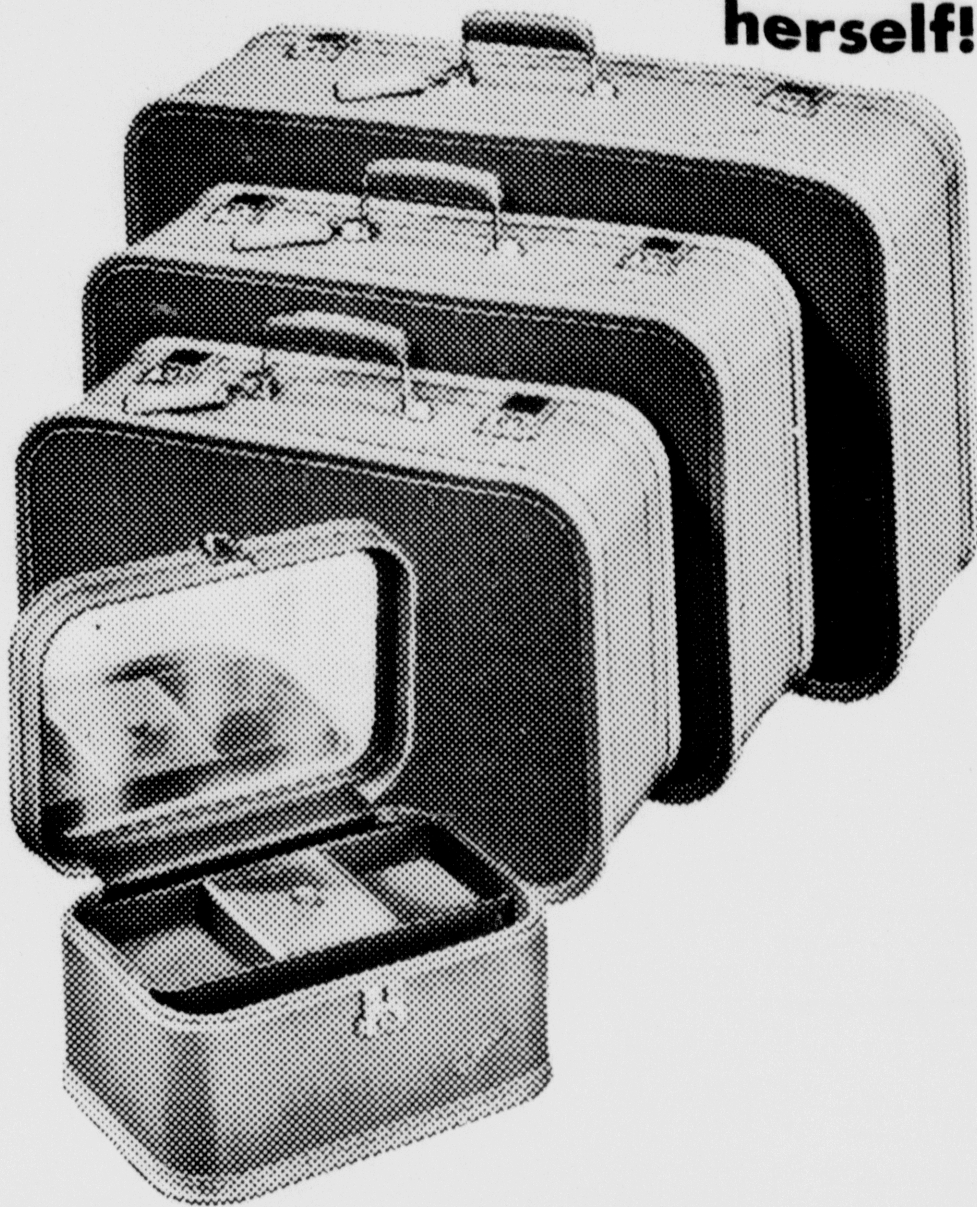

It is widely reported that the President has been able to induce his first Secretary of the Navy and later Under Secretary of Defense, Robert Anderson of Texas, to risk the outstanding Anderson reputation in the first Treasury hot spot. It is also believed that the Eisenhower choice for Under Secretary to succeed Burgess is Sloan Colt of the Banker Trust Company of New York, but that Colt is a reluctant dragon.

It would seem obvious that the Treasury's special requirements at the moment are for men with great prestige, clarity of vision and wide political understanding. These are never in too ample a supply in any Administration.

BRANDS FIGHT

What the FCC and the FTC don't do about exaggerated and false claims by advertising hucksters, competition may. Remington Rand has been claiming that two-headed shavers will tear the skin. To prove this it has demonstrated the two-headed shavers, using a pair of hose as the target. The torn hose proved their point, they intimated.

Schick didn't take very kindly to this. In fact there is no kindness intended in the $5 million suit which it has brought against Remington Rand. It says its shaver was used and used incorrectly in the television demonstrations. The disparaging claims are worth $5 million it will argue in court.

This could lead to some interesting court action. Competitors have been saying some unkind things about each other since competition began. If you believe your product is better than the other man's and are willing to prove it by a demonstration, you often do.

If such claims are false we are supposed to have several agencies whose job it is to clamp down. In the case of Remington Rand, such commercials have been common for years and it is no credit to the agencies created to enforce the law that a competitor has had to file suit, if the ads have been false.

Following this tact the car industry could spend some interesting days in halls of justice. So many cars have won economy runs that the public believes none of them. As for us we know that when you buy a modern powerhouse the gasoline tank was put there to be filled a couple times a week, and twelve miles on a gallon at about thirty cents a gallon is the price of 1957 motoring.

TARGET--MAILBOXES

If your mailbox looks like a disposed can, or if your name thereon either is too faint or just isn't, the 4-H Club is looking for you. A national program to improve mailboxes will be promoted by the Warren county postmasters and the post office department. This will start June 3 and will last two weeks.

The 4-H Clubs of Warren county, through the cooperation of Bernard L. Wingert, assistant county farm agent, will have the program as one of their spring activities. They are learning the mailbox requirements and regulations and hope to influence many rural residents to dress up their "front door" by providing a mailbox that suggests goodhouse-keeping.

Not only is a box in bad repair an untidy decoration for the front yard, but it also is not very practical. Mail should be protected from the weather, and though the mailman may learn where everyone lives, there are those who may want to find you for many other good reasons. The name, therefore, should be there, and it should be clear.

There will be days when the regular mailman may not be on the route. That may be the one when an important letter is heading your way. Accurate identification may save you a costly delay.

YOU MIGHT SAVE

There are some foods which are supposed to be plentiful in May and consequently the price should be lower than usual. These include beef, turkeys, eggs, potatoes, onions, canned freestone peaches, canned plums, and frozen strawberries. Other so-called money-savers in May are milk products, peanuts, peanut butter, and halibut, says Catherine Love, Penn State consumer education specialist.

STOCKING HELP

If the gauge and denier of hose mean nothing to you, "gauge" is the number of crosswise stitches to one and one-half inches of fabric. "Denier" is the size of the thread. The lower the number of the denier the finer the yarn.

Popular denier sizes are 30, 20, 15, and 12. The most common gauge are 45, 51, 60, and 66. Bernice Sharp, Penn State clothing specialist, is the authority source.

LIVER IS TOPS

Liver is a good buy. It is not expensive and it has more food value than all other meats. It is high in protein, and has generous amounts of iron, vitamin A, and the B vitamins, -- niacin, thiamine, and riboflavin.

Don't overcook liver. It should be cooked at a low temperature, and if it is from a young animal use dry heat. High quality beef and lamb liver can be cooked the same way as calf liver.

The advice is provided by Louise Hamilton, Penn State nutritionist.

EGGS SHOULD ABOUND

Two years ago the American market provided tons of eggs for the English. But today the British are producing more eggs than they can eat. The result should be more eggs for our home-consumption.

The irony of this situation is that the British have been studying our poultry methods and the result is that the average annual production of English hens has jumped upward from 110 eggs to 200.

But right there we lose the British agricultural attache who explained this situation. He winds it up by saying that any move to do away with surpluses is of interest to the British. If they have stopped buying our surplus how have they eliminated it? Maybe he also knows why the chicken did what he did.

*"I like those extras
you get in an Olds!"*

HE: You mean the advanced styling. I suppose. The Accent Stripe and . . .

SHE: Oh, there's more to it than that. For example, the "park" position on the Hydra-Matic Drive* makes it safer and easier to start, even on hills.

HE: Well, Olds has a reputation for attention to details. That's one reason the value lasts.

SHE: You can tell that someone took a lot of patience in planning and building it right. Even the two ash trays are lighted.

HE: I'll bet the Oldsmobile engineers would love that, but I wonder how they'd feel about you not mentioning the Rocket Engine? Now there's a power plant. There's still nothing quite like a Rocket!

SHE: That's for me too, but I look for lots of other things -- like upholstery . . . and that glove box. It's big enough for an umbrella. I wish . . .

HE: Tell you what. Let's stop wishing. Let's go see our Olds dealer . . . right now!

"Where Summer Has Already Arrived"

ASIDES

WHAT IT'S WORTH

What is a new plant worth to your town? According to William R. Davlin, Pennsylvania Secretary of Commerce, a plant which provides 100 new jobs results in a population growth of 296. It also means about $360,000 in more retail sales annually, 107 more passenger cars, 74 more jobs outside the plant, 51 more school children, $270,000 more bank deposits, all of which comes from $590,000 more personal income.

CANINE PRACTICE

Those who are a bit green about showing their dog and want to compete in the shows this summer are being offered a chance to work out their green kinks at a spring dog sanction match in the Erie National Guard armory, May 26, starting at one o'clock. This is sponsored by the Erie Kennel Club which will hold its major EKC dog show in Fairview on June 16.

Coffee will be served at one and judging will start at two. All area dog owners with pure-bred animals are invited to enter. There will be classes, ribbons, and trophies for puppies from 3 to 6 months and from 6 to 12. Also an open class. Dogs holding more than five championship points and champions of record will not be eligible.

STAY SOBER

Inasmuch as the average accident involving a pedestrian usually is the pedestrian's fault we often have wondered why something isn't done about pedestrian laws, and the enforcing of them. In all the news stories we have written none has reported the prosecution or the arrest of a pedestrian.

But Assemblyman Gramlich of Venango county and Davis of Forest county would change this. They propose a bill that will make it unlawful for a man to walk on the highway if he is intoxicated. In fact the law says he can't even be on a highway or public street.

Suggesting that if you want to sleep one off, don't do it on the highway. If the cars miss you the district attorney won't.

NEW TAX ANGLE

Those who look for ways of obtaining tax money from people who live on state property but use local schools and facilities should welcome State House Bill 1425. It would allow local taxes against state-owned property.

RICH OIL SOURCE

With the Middle East becoming a very unsettled area which any day may develop into a spot so hot that oil will not be readily available, one of our richest sources of gasoline again is enjoying some attention in progressive portions of the press and by some very adventurous business investors.

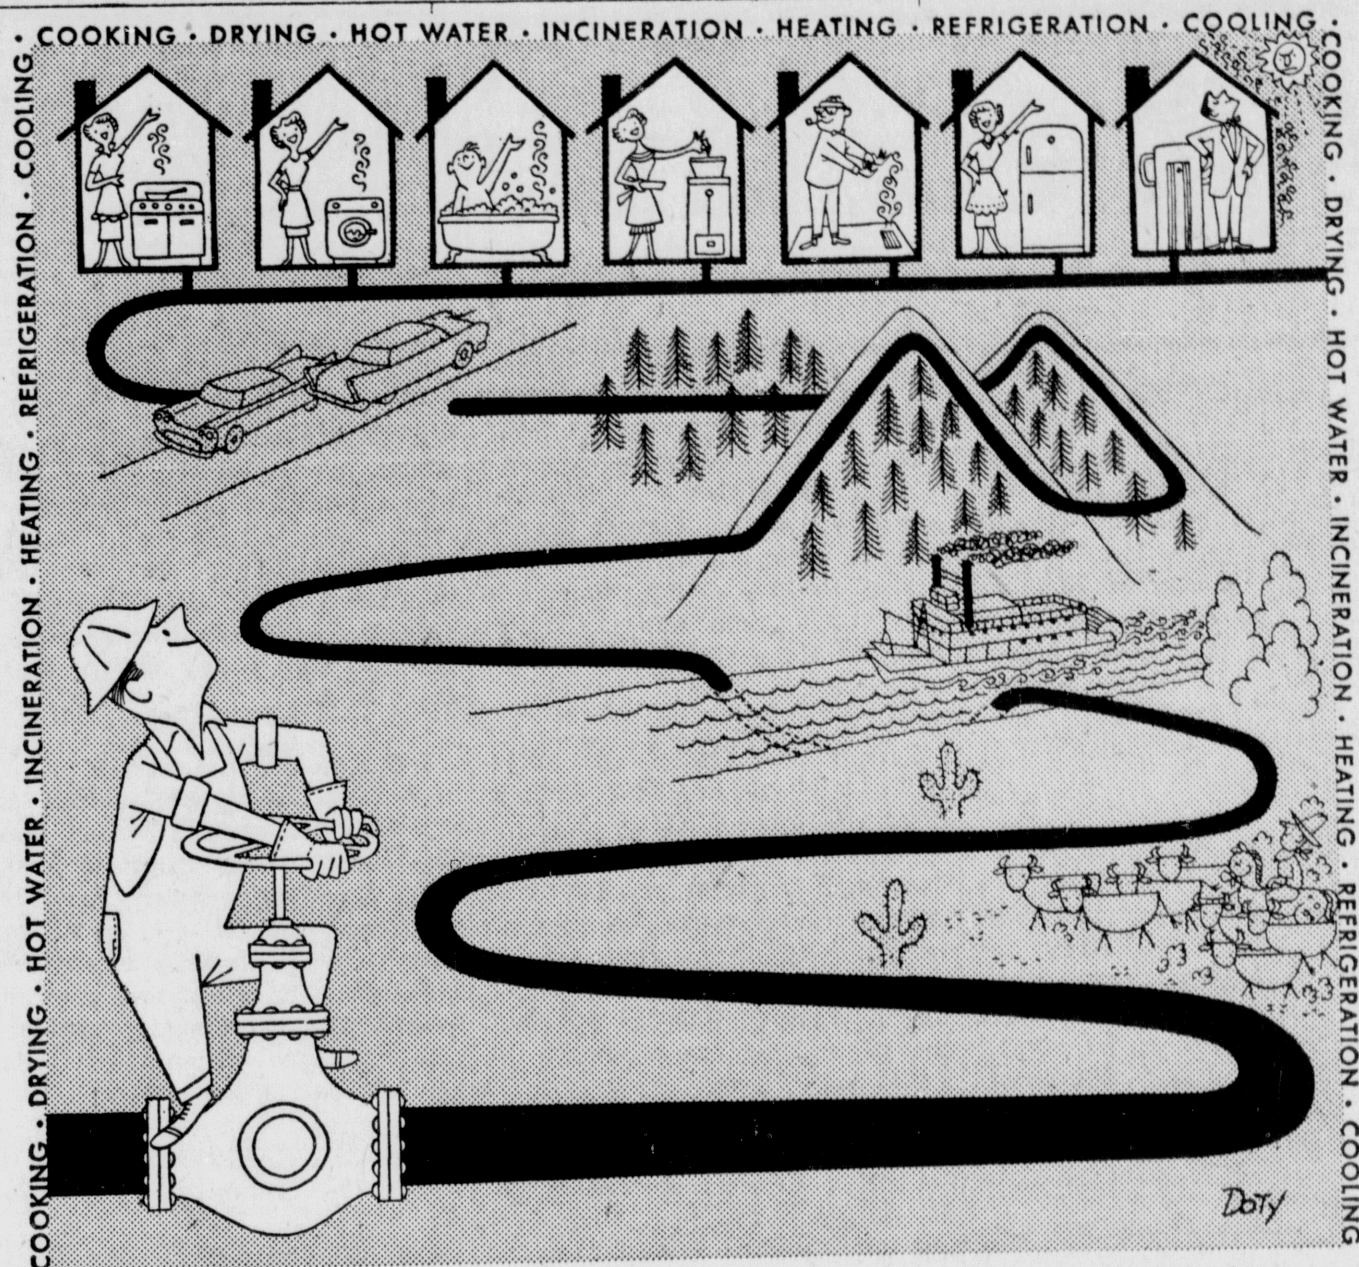

We are referring to oil shale of which we have huge quantities in the West, enough in fact to provide us with gasoline for many years. Retorting of this shale was making great strides until a government committee was appointed to decide what to do about it. On the committee were placed prominent oil men who naturally decided the government projects should be shut down.

At Rifle, Colorado, where the Navy was in charge, they had the processing of shale down to 50 cents a ton. Allowed the same depreciation as oil, 27.5 per cent, private companies might take it from there and soon be doing business at a rate that would compare in price with that now on sale.

It seems that this should be done even if it isn't allowed to get on the market until an emergency, such as a war, develops.

LOOKING AHEAD

The 1957 issue of the Warren high school year book, the Dragon, represents much good thinking on the part of the young men and women who planned it. "We, the Class of '57, dedicate this yearbook to our fondest dream . . . a new high school building for Warren," is seen on an early page which also pictures an architectural sketch of a modern

Natural Gas Travels Farther These Days

Not so long ago your natural gas supply lay practically in your back yard.

Today, much of the natural gas you find so useful in your home travels thousands of miles from the Southwest. Over seventy-five per cent of the gas served to you through Columbia Gas System companies comes from Texas or Louisiana.

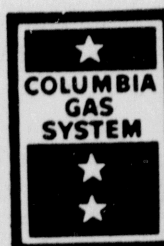

It makes a four-day trip smoothly and dependably through miles and miles of huge steel arteries—the pipelines that spread northward from the Gulf Coast. Columbia Gas System companies now take gas from five cross-country pipelines and relay it to you through a network of distribution systems.

And today natural gas goes farther in more ways than one—when you use modern, efficient appliances for this most modern, most efficient fuel.

The book also pictures other buildings which are a part of the future, such as the hospital, the new Sylva plant, Jefferson school, and drawings of the Penn Laurel Motel, and St. Joseph's church and rectory which will be built on Pennsylvania ave.

THE PRO TOUCH

The small vote in the Tuesday primary obviously was due to several things. The organization did not strongly back any candidate and was not hustling supporters to the polls. There were few major contests to arouse interest. The weather was not encouraging. And the candidates generally did not work hard enough to stir up a strong following.

But the touch of a few pros showed through. Large majorities in a few spots enjoyed by some suggested that enough votes may have been "delivered" to settle the issue. In the coroner race the incumbent enjoyed the benefit of having name known in the rural areas. In Warren where his challenger was well known it was a different story.

And so we look forward to a quiet general election where competition will be even less keen except for isolated cases, such as the Fourth Ward where Councilman John Carbon is being opposed by Arthur White.

PUBLIC EVENTS

A BENEFIT DANCE. . . . sponsored by the Woman's Club, will be held Saturday, May 25. Dancing will be from 9 to 12, with music by George Johnson's orchestra. This affair is for the benefit of the swimming pool fund. Tickets are available at the Style Shop, Warren Drug Store, Betty Lee's, or by calling the Woman's Club office, 410.

HEETER'S SHOWS' CARNIVAL. . . sponsored by the Glade Twp. Vol. Fire Dept., is appearing today (Thursday), tomorrow (Friday), and Saturday on Conewango ave. extension, Warren. There will be free parking and no charge for admission. Rides, shows, and games will be featured. Advance tickets are available from any member of the fire department, or at the White House Inn.

THE PASSION PLAY. . . will be presented in Warren September 8th, 9th and 10th under the auspices of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce. It will be the original authentic American version exactly as performed at Oberammergau, Bavaria, Germany, for 324 years, and is coming to this country through the efforts of Consolidated Concerts Corporation of New York.

For the first American tour of the New World version the producers have adapted the script for the first time in English. They have also eliminated all of the tableaux and added additional scenes so that the American version is presented in 22 scenes with a running time of 2-1/2 hours, which is customary in the American theater.

The Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce is bringing this, the world's greatest drama, to the people of Warren in the belief that such attractions should be made available to all people because of the turmoil and strife throughout the world today.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES. . . . in co-sponsorship with the Marine Corps League, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Legion, will begin with a parade Thursday, May 30, at 10 a.m. Services will follow at Oakland cemetery at 11 a.m. Guest speaker will be Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson. In case of rain, exercises will be held in the Court House.

In Brief

EXPAND SERVICE. An important step forward in the Warren County Children's Aid Society's program was taken last Thursday when members voted to re-incorporate into an organization known as the Family Service and Children's Aid Society of Warren County.

This will allow the society, for the first time in its sixty-eight years of operation, to expand its service toward fostering the development of healthy family life. Also to engage in the study of factors contributing to family disorganization and to develop skill and knowledge in dealing with personal and family problems.

In other business the members reelected directors Mrs. P. E. Harrington, Mrs. W. F. Crossett, R. E. Dunham, S. Knox Harper, Mrs. D. W. Morse and W. H. Muir. The following officers were then chosen: Mrs. D. E. Conaway, president; Mrs. Harrington, first vice president; Mrs. D. E. McComas, second vice president; Mrs. R. O. Wilder, secretary; W. M. Hill, treasurer; Mr. Dunham, assistant treasurer; and Mr. Harper, legal advisor.

REELECTED president of the YMCA board of directors at the May session Monday evening was Alan H. Templeton. Picked to serve with him were Roy L. Blodgett, first vice president; James W. Potter, second vice president; Myron E. Jewell, treasurer; and Karl G. Timm, recording secretary.

In other action the board voted to lease the Youth Canteen building to the Warren Recreation Board for $1.00 per year, accepted the resignation of general secretary Dan K. Walton, and accepted a gift of land at Prendergast Point at Chautauqua Lake from Miss Edith Langdale as a memorial to her brother, George W. Langdale. The area is to be used for boys' work in the "Y".

MILLION DOLLAR BUDGET. Directors of the Warren General Hospital met this week and adopted a record-breaking $1,011,650 for the 1957-58 fiscal year. This includes an expenditure of $24,000 for new hospital equipment, mostly medical items.

To meet the increased figure, the board elected to increase charges in several departments which have been operating at a deficit. This does not involve room rates at this time.

Approval was given the general floor plans for the remodeling of the old maternity building into the Alice Wetmore Jefferson Pavillon, which will be a chronic illness and rehabilitation center.

Plans were announced of a refresher course for nurses who have been out of active practice for some time. This will take place in the fall.

President Robert O. Wilder announced the annual meeting for the hospital association will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday, June 25, and named C. R. Betts, James Blomquist and James Wright to the nominating committee.

Twenty-nine applications for membership in the Warren General Hospital Association were approved by the board. Lifetime membership in this association costs ten dollars and application may be made to the board by anyone living in the area served by the hospital.

TOO FAST for conditions was the charge placed against Neal Sloppy, Kane, after he lost control of his motorcycle at the intersection of Market st. and Seventh ave. at 1:03 p. m. last Thursday. The two-wheeler jumped the curb and went over the sidewalk causing $50 damage and a broken ankle to the operator.

Borough police made a second arrest Friday after Thomas Akeley, R. D. 2, Akeley, pulled from a parking space and struck the left front of an approaching vehicle driven by Louise Pasquarette, 102 Center st. Nearly $400 damage was caused and police charged Akeley with failing to yield the right of way. A passenger, Carl Pasquarette, suffered a bump on the head and a possible chest injury.

A three-car pile-up in front of the bus depot on Pennsylvania ave., E., at 5 p. m. Sunday resulted in $525 damage to cars driven by George Ferver, R. D. 2, Warren, E. J. Armstrong, 10 Jefferson st., and Thomas McDunn, 200 Main ave. The former two cars had stopped for traffic when McDunn struck the rear of one, driving it into the other.

STOLEN CAR. Area authorities have been alerted to be on the lookout for a green, two-door, 1940 Ford that was stolen between 8:30 and 9:30 Sunday at the home of the owner, Florence Scalise, 316 Laurel st. There were no keys in the car when it was taken.

A WET SKID. Two Hastings men had to be rescued from Picnic Run, just east of Warren, after their auto skidded off the highway and into the drink about 1:20 p. m. Monday. The driver of the auto was Donald Fiasco, who had to be pulled from the car by a rope. His passenger had dared the strong current and crawled from the auto, which was half covered with water, onto the roof. Neither were injured, but over $500 damage was inflicted to the vehicle.

ABOUT $500 DAMAGE was caused at 10:15 p. m. last Friday a half mile west of Warren on Route 6, where Richard Culver, Spartansburg, went off the left side of the highway and rolled his car over.

DEADLINE for Girl Scouts to register for the 12-day established camp session is June 1.

Also, any Warren intermediate or senior troop desiring to march in the Memorial Day parade should call Mrs. Earl Abel or the scout office.

AFTER THE PROM. The Warren Elks have announced plans to make all of the lodge room facilities available to Warren high school young people after the Junior-Senior Prom on June 1st. Entertainment will also be provided.

HOST CHAPTER. The Chief Cornplanter American Legion post will be host to the annual district convention here on July 20th. A full day's schedule has been planned, including a convention parade.

$1000 KICK-OFF. The Warren Kiwanis club has revealed it will contribute $1,000 as a kick-off to the Youth Canteen "Spot" fund raising campaign. This drive is being planned to rehabilitate the canteen into an attractive and purpose-serving place for the young people of the community.

ONE OF THE FINEST. Major Marx H. Stuart, coordinator between the air force and the state council of Civil Defense, was one of eight officer-experts in Warren last week to look over the facilities of the Ground Observer Corps in the county. The visitors complimented the local organization by stating it was one of the finest posts they had ever seen, not only in its physical equipment, but in its visibility in spotting planes as well.

PROGRESS in the program of the Warren County Probation association includes a definite savings to the taxpayers of the county, according to a report given at the annual meeting of the association last week.

All reports showed progress toward fulfillment of the organization's purpose, but of great interest was the savings to the taxpayers brought about by the activities and functions of the probation officers. Only four cases have been heard in juvenile court since the first of the year, a distinct drop and savings of monies needed to carry out the court work.

Five directors elected to serve a three year term were Maurice Emery, S. Knox Harper, W. Howard Alexander, Clifford R. Betts and Allen M. Gibson. Officers reelected were president W. Floyd Clinger, vice president John P. Wendell, secretary Warren E. Miller, and treasurer E. C. Rasmussen.

BIG CLEAN-UP. In their recent Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up campaign the Warren Jaycees hauled away 53 loads of trash, 14 loads of salvage and spent 185 manhours to do the job. General Joseph Warren also got a new coat of armor.

JEFFERSON PTA elected John W. Lutz to serve as president next year. Others picked to offices were Mrs. Myer Berenfield, Miss Marguerite Fleming, Mrs. A. Oriole and Bernard Bloom.

SEVEN BEGINNERS between the ages of 9 and 14 have passed their tests in the Red Cross handicap swim program conducted at the YMCA pool by Paul Steinkamp.

NEW BUSINESS. The "Outdoor Store", one of 20 in Western New York and this area owned by the Rochester Merchandise Inc., will open this week in Warren. Located in the former Federal Store site on Pennsylvania ave., it will handle a variety of merchandise, including clothing, sporting and household goods.

Its grand opening is scheduled for June 7.

DECEASED VETERANS. The following is the list of deceased veterans from all wars who have been buried since Memorial Day of 1956.
SPANISH WAR VETERAN - Howard A. Hahn.

WORLD WAR I - Clarence Agren, Christ M. Andersen, Ralph Clayton Beach, George Q. Calderwood, Ralph Nelson Clark, Lawrence Damm, Bert R. Dennison, Russell Evans, Martin Garvey, James R. Gebhart, Harold Ernest Honhart, George Ray Laurie, Marshall F. Mathis, Raymond Russell Moser, Russell George Peck, John Frank Rice, James Richards, Frank Rossell, Sr., Charles B. Schwing, Joseph Stragiser, and Albin John Washburg.

WORLD WAR II - Carl J. Castagnino, Thomas Giltinan, Edward Abiel Rogers, and Maynard G. Sullivan.
KOREAN - James H. Edwards and Benjamin Floyd Newmaker.

COLLEGE TALK. Charles E. Johnson, a senior at Upsala College in East Orange, N.J., has received a Blue Key award for one year of service as a member of Blue Key, men's honorary service organization. The Warren man is a candidate for the bachelor of arts degree and will graduate from the college June 3.

At Clarion State Teachers College's ninetieth convocation on May 27 George Wollaston will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education. A 1953 graduate of Warren high school, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wollaston, 14 N. Marion st., Warren.

Approve Warren Flood Control Project

Flood control projects costing $79,000 have been approved for Warren by the State Council of Civil Defense. Five projects have been approved in Pennsylvania of which Warren is the smallest. The money is derived from the penny a pack tax levied after the 1955 floods. Local governments must provide right-of-ways and maintain the facilities. The construction will be supervised by the Department of Forest and Waters.

HONORARY MARSHALL of the Jaycee Mardi-Gras Parade on July 6 will be Col. Francis Gabreski, of Oil City, popular Air Force ace. The colonel, who received the national Jaycee Young Man of the Year award in 1951, was America's leading combat ace during World War II and the Korean War. He has 36-1/2 planes to his credit. At the present Col. Gabreski is commanding officer of Myrtle Beach Air Force Base in So. Carolina.

A WINNER in the Republican race for the District Attorney nod in Warren County Tuesday was Samuel Bonavita. He defeated incumbent Myer Kornreich 2,342 to 1908.

ED C. LOWREY, coroner since 1926, was reelected to his Warren County post in the Primary Election Tuesday night by an unofficial vote of 2,357 to 1,856. Opposing him on the Republican ticket was Ed MacKendrick.

for Safety, Security, and Adequate Income

Advancing years present money problems entirely different from those of youth or middle age. Income needs are usually not as great, but safety becomes much more vital. We always welcome an opportunity to help work out a security program that will make the most of those golden years. The benefit of our many years of experience is yours without charge.

FUN FOR ALL

June is recreation month. There are those among us to whom this word "recreation" means very little. Either they think of it as some vague dream of those who specialize in social work, or they connect it with playgrounds which to them are little more than baby-sitting facilities. They are very wrong!

No one can run away from a problem that already faces us. The thirty-hour week is nearly with us, and could be today if time-saving machines were given some cooperation. Even as we live today there is much leisure time, and the young people are free from the chores of yesterday and the limited pleasures that could be handled in the neighboring empty lot.

There is no empty lot. The few that are left are so small that a battered or kicked ball endangers windows and flower beds on all sides. We have expanded our time and concentrated our play areas in which to use it. Those who once played in the neighborhood lots now meet in larger numbers on the nearest playground.

But dad and mother are not to be left out of this. They also have more time, and there is no reason why they should not have facilities for enjoying it. Fishing, hunting, golfing, bowling, concerts, horseshoe pitching, picnics, painting, sculpture, shuffleboard, dancing, swimming, and many other games and arts can be enjoyed together. Or they can be grouped so that the entire family is together while participating in a variety of pleasure.

The adults also have their problems. Life about the home has been made easier and there is more leisure time. Streams have become lined with cottages and will be more completely lined as streams are improved. Access to waterways and lakes is becoming a major concern of the state which provides fishing through the use of license funds.

Golf courses are needed so that more than a limited few can play near home. More tennis courts are required. Archery is a family sport which would go big if given adequate room and promotion.

Ice skating has proved its worth in Warren. So much so that there is talk of adding more rinks in other parts of town. However, what we really need is a means of providing this healthy sport on more days of the season. This will require brine pipes and a compressor. If the healthy sport can be so much enjoyed for twenty days during the winter, why not for the full season? We believe a slight fee would pay for the investment, supervision, and maintenance.

Warren is awakening to the full meaning of the word "recreation". It was a naughty word a few years ago that was bucked by the old-timers who lacked vision. Today it is more understood, and our progressive community leaders are fully aware of its worth to all ages. The area which has been slow to catch on, is seeing the value of dams, parks, improved streams, and playgrounds.

IT GROWS

Next month eighty thousand recreation leaders in 5,389 communities will take part in special events. They will be meeting the challenge of America's high birthrate, increased automation, shortened work week, and lengthening life span. They will be fighting juvenile delinquency, alcoholism, drug addiction, and all habits which endanger the mental and physical welfare of our people.

They will be promoting more than ninety-one different types of recreation, ranging from square dancing to craft workshops. They will be teaching and organizing tots for playground fun, teen-agers for dances,

* Denotes New Programs or Program Changes

Test Pattern—

Saturday—9:15 A. M. to Program Time.

Sunday—10:45 A. M. to Program Time.

Changes In This Schedule May Be Made Without Notice.

adults for theatre groups, and Golden Agers for sculpture or horseshoes.

And they will be cooperating with churches, schools, fraternal organizations, industrialists, and Chambers of Commerce.

Give us families that pray together and play together and you will see less of delinquency and broken homes.

WATCH FOR

A bit more on the subject of Recreation Month is the suggestion that you read the June issue of Recreation magazine which will have an article on encroachment and what to do about it. Cosmopolitan will be devoted to our new leisure, with one article discussing the development of ethics of leisure just as we have developed ethics for work.

And the May issue of Ladies Home Journal has a feature center spread in full color, dealing with the fear that America is becoming a public dump heap.

NEW THEATRE

Those in the area who have joined the growing number who annually attend the Stratford Shakespearean Festival in Stratford, Ontario, each summer, this year will not sit in a tent. A new theatre, designed to retain much of the atmosphere of the tent, is being furnished, and will seat about two thousand, over eight hundred of them in the balcony.

The Festival has more than Shakespeare to offer. In addition to Hamlet and Twelfth Night this year, there will be the usual music programs and film premieres. Films from fourteen countries will be seen in the two-week period, from July 8 to July 20. They will be seen at 2:30 and 8:30 each day, and will be changed daily.

Except for one revival, all will be seen for the first time in Canada and several will be receiving their North American and world premieres. America will provide The Naked Eye and On The Bowery. The unique switch to The Naked Eye is that it is the first picture with scenes of total nudity to win a seal of approval under the Hollywood production code. It is a film about the fun and art of photography, narrated by Raymond Massey, and featuring the work of leading photographers. We will discuss other films in a later column.

Bonavita And Lowrey Succeed In Primary

One of the lightest votes in off-year elections was cast in Tuesday's Primary, despite two interesting Republican races in which Samuel F. Bonavita emerged the candidate for District Attorney and Ed C. Lowrey ran a repeat performance in the Coroner race.

Bonavita, with the party on his side, ousted incumbent Myer Kornreich with a county vote of 2,342 to 1,908 for a 434 margin. In Warren borough the young attorney received a 980-766 majority.

Ed MacKendrick waged a strong battle to take the coroner nod from incumbent Lowrey, who will now be seeking his ninth term, but failed to draw enough at the outlying polls. The daily editor won by a 497 margin, 2,353-1,856, but dropped the Warren Borough vote 1,001 to 734.

In the borough council Republican fight incumbent John Newmaker defeated Ralph Anderson 119 to 52 in the first ward, incumbent Paul Yagge beat Tony Tomassoni in the sixth, 178 to 80, and incumbent Nick Merenick succeeded over Dick Tucker 66-39 in the ninth. The fifth ward outcome saw Karl Timm winning out 242 to 159 over incumbent C. T. Berdine.

No opposition was offered the other major candidates. Bill Rice will again be on the ticket for Burgess, Gerould M. Ostergard is running for tax collector, Martha G. Lawson and Ervine N. Branch will oppose each other in the Justice of Peace race this fall. All are Republicans except Branch.

Interment will follow in Garland cemetery.

MRS. CORA E. MELEY, 76, resident of Stoneham, died Wednesday, May 22, in Warren General hospital. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Ed Wynn Is Rediscovered Again

The three most fashionable dramatic heroes of our particular moment in history are alcoholics, dope addicts and comedians. Any day now

I expect some bright young writer to knock off a TV play about an alcoholic comedian who takes up dope on the side. And, of course, Mickey Rooney will have to play it.

Just as alcoholism and dope are the fashionable topics -- what ever happened to homosexuality? That used to be good for a lot of laughs -- so are Mickey Rooney and Ed Wynn the hot performers of the moment. Just the other night, it was Ed Wynn again on the Alcoa hour playing the part of an old movie comedian who had outlived his popularity. Discovered by an ex-child star living in poverty in Brooklyn, the old gaffer is given a second chance on television and becomes a colossal nuisance who pretty near wrecks his benefactor's romance and his show.

There were a good many things the matter with this drama. For one thing, Ed Wynn, who was rediscovered on "Requiem For A Heavyweight" and again in "The Great Man" and still again in "The Great American Hoax", is in danger of being rediscovered just once too often. All these parts are beginning to sound exactly alike and they are all, unfortunately, getting longer. For instance in "The Great Man" the Wynn part couldn't have been more than five minutes long and then he disappeared, never to be seen again. It was mighty effective. But when you take the same character and same mannerisms and distribute them over an hour, there is a watering down of dramatic interest and, even more importantly, of sympathy. I mean an old gaffer who becomes a nuisance to the other characters is always in danger of becoming just as big a nuisance to the audience if you leave him on too long.

"No wonder no one laughs at comedians any more," said a comedian I know who was watching the show with me. "Comedians are not a laughing matter any more. You read about their emotional difficulties and their horrible childhood in 'Look' magazine. Or you see a drama which explains what absolute monsters they are in private lives. At the very best, they're just pathetic. At worst, they're fiends. The last thing in the world that occurs to anyone is to LAUGH at a comedian. It's much more appropriate to burst into tears. Or maybe punch him in the face. But to laugh at a comedian -- things being like they are -- it's indecent."

I'm afraid I agree. There's been too much inside dope about the comedian, too much backstage gossip. It takes the glamor away from him. More importantly, it makes the comedian an object of concern rather than a figure of fun -- and that will never do. The whole profession is suffering as a result of all this intimate disclosure.

And the whole profession is also suffering from over-exposure. Much as I admire Sid Caesar and much as I will miss him next year on NBC, I must confess that the network is dead right and he is dead wrong. Mr. Caesar is a TV baby and accustomed to think in once-a-week terms. But the public is going to get tired of it even if there were a comedian who could be good once a week every week. Mr. Caesar came as close to that objective as, I think, anyone ever will -- but not even he managed to make it. And even if he had, the public would still get sick of him.

Even worse, it is going to get sick of comedians and of comedy itself. There is a point of surfeit and, when it is reached, it affects not only the welcome of individual comedians but of all comedians. The fact is, there are only so many comedy ideas at a time. Let one guy do a parody on "This Is Your Life" and pretty soon they are all doing it. Within a very short time, no matter how brilliant the parodies, the public stops laughing.

I don't know what can be done for a couple of years. We'll never start laughing again until he stops had better stop laying bare his soul breaking our hearts.

90 MINUTES OF GROUCHO

Groucho Marx has agreed to do a spectacular for NBC-TV next season. The drama in which he will be seen for ninety minutes is titled "Time for Elizabeth", an adaptation of a stage comedy which he wrote in collaboration with Norman Krasna. He may also star in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial by Jury", also on the NBC agenda.

NOT FUNNY FOR SLEZAK

Walter Slezak and CBS supposedly had arranged with Lever Bros. and Shulton, Inc. for the former to do a situation-comedy series with a fall debut. Then the two advertisers said they didn't want the show after the network had announced its purchase. "Too sophisticated" was the reason given. They now are looking for a new program for the 8:30-9:00 spot on Tuesday evenings which they still hold. And Mr. Slezak is holding the bag . . . full of a comedy series in a situation which isn't funny for him.

OVER-RATED RATINGS

Robert W. Sarnoff, president of NBC, publicly advocates abolishing the "Top Ten" in tv program ratings. Pulse, Inc., a rating service, concurs with Mr. Sarnoff and may cease releasing the top ten ratings. Their reason is that frequently only fractions of a point separate numerous programs. The "Top Ten" has become a symbol of success when actually any difference of less than two or three rating points is insignificant. The rating yardstick method has eliminated many really "top" programs while giving the old ballyhoo to some mediocre ones.

SPONSORS ARE HESITANT

The above situation may be at least partially the reason why more than thirty programs have failed to be re-scheduled for next season. Sponsors have contracted for time spots but have held back in signing up shows because the past season has seen so many so-called top programs fall on their Trendex faces.

PROGRAM CHANGES

SID CAESAR will give his last performance of the season on Saturday evening. As yet, no announcement has been made as to who or what will fill his time spot. Caesar has had a nine-year run on NBC and his termination of a ten-year contract with the network apparently is by mutual agreement. He hasn't definitely stated his future plans except to hint that he will continue in the television entertainment field.

THE DANNY THOMAS SHOW, now televised by ABC, will be a CBS presentation next season, to be seen from 9 to 9:30 Monday evenings.

HI-FI MUSIC will be heard in a new fully-sponsored two-hour series on Tuesdays and Thursdays over WJAC-TV (106.5 mc). Divided in two parts, the first hour, WAGON TRAIN, NBC-TV's new series starting September 11, has signed academy award winner Ernest Borgnine to star in the title role of "The Willy Moran Story". He is the first of top guest stars who will appear on the program with Ward Bond and Robert Horton.

DRAGNET brings thirteen of its best productions in a re-run series beginning Thursday, May 30, 8:30-9 p.m., on NBC-TV.

COURT OF LAST RESORT, a film series crime detection board, is scheduled to start on NBC-TV on Friday night, October 4 from 8-8:30 p.m. Old Gold cigarettes (P. Lorillard Co.) is sponsor. "Blondie" has the current spot.

THE WEB, a new filmed mystery series, will be the summer replacement for the "Loretta Young Show" seen Sunday nights on NBC from 10-10:30. Proctor and Gamble Co. is sponsor of both programs.

THE ARTHUR MURRAY PARTY will move into a Monday Night NBC-TV spot for the summer under Bristol-Myers sponsorship. The variety show takes its new place Monday, July 1 at 9:30-10 p.m. The show has a 12-week summer schedule.

DIAL SPINNERS

NOT GIVING UP is Mutual which still hopes to get that $5 million that Ford will spend at heavy traffic hours to reach car operators next season. CBS may have trouble clearing time for the programs and Mutual is ready with the wanted minutes. It also is dickering with Chevrolet for a similar idea if it misses Ford. You can expect most of the car makers to follow Ford's plan of spending money to reach the car owner during concentrated periods by radio spots.

YOU CAN SEE Billy Graham on four consecutive Saturday evenings, starting June 1. He will be speaking from Madison Square Garden. The network will be ABC and the time 8 p.m., in direct competition with Perry Como and Jackie Gleason.

GEORGE GOBEL'S guests for the next few weeks will be humorists Cliff Norton and Howard McNear on May 25; comedian Jack Carson, June 1; and singer-comedienne Jeannie Carson on June 15.

HOME, NBC-TV's weekday program at 10:00 a.m., will commemorate the men of World Wars I and II in a Memorial Day show on Thursday, May 30. The Cities Service Band, singers Bill Hayes and Snooky Lanson, and many other entertainers will be featured.

FIVE STARS FOR SPRINGTIME, a musical-variety show, will be telecast via NBC-TV on Saturday eve, June 1 from 9 to 10 p.m. Starring will be Patti Page, Nat "King" Cole, Andy Williams, June Valli, Ricky Nelson, Bud Collyer, Paul Weston and his orchestra, and special guest Gordon MacRae.

CIRCLE OF THE DAY, best selling-novel and Literary Guild selection last year, has been adapted for Playhouse 90 and will be presented Thursday night, May 30 at 8:30 over WBEN-TV. Leading roles will be played by Nancy Kelly, Gladys Cooper and Michael Rennie. The publicity releases say this is "a suspenseful drama of crisis and decision".

JO STAFFORD will make her fourth guest appearance of the season on Perry Como's show Saturday night. Other guests will be comedian Jackie Miles and singer-pianist Fats Domino.

SPORTS SCENE

BOXING - Virgil Akins of St. Louis faces Randy Sandy of New York in a 10-round middleweight bout at New Capitol Arena in Washington, D.C., Friday, May 24, covered by NBC-TV and Radio on the Cavalcade of Sports hour.

This bout replaces the previously scheduled 10-rounder between Paoli Rosi and Joey Lopes, which was postponed because Rosi suffered a hand injury.

ABC carries Wednesday night fights which may be seen in this area on WGR-TV, chan. 2.

WJAC-TV, chan. 6, brings an hour-long wrestling film on Monday nights at 11:15.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL, NBC-TV's Saturday afternoon telecast will find the Milwaukee Braves opposing the Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field, Chicago, May 25 at 2:25 p.m.

BASEBALL GAME OF THE WEEK, CBS-TV's contribution to the sports world, will have as its next attraction, Saturday, May 25, the New York Giants vs. the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

KDKA-TV, Pittsburgh, channel 2, will bring the Pirates vs. Philadelphia Saturday game at 2:00 p.m., May 25, and WJAC-TV, channel 6, will carry a Pirates vs. Philadelphia game on Sunday afternoon at 1:00.

WBEN-TV, channel 4, begins a 10-week golf series on Tuesday evening, May 28 at 6:15. Sports Clinic, with Chuck Healy as host, will salute a different area club each week, with one of its top pros as studio guest. SAVES WALKING

The fisherman and the hunter today can have so much more of his sport than was possible a few years ago. He can spend the entire day in the field or on the stream, with very little time wasted getting to or from the scene of his pleasure.

In addition he can make one-day trips that were impossible a few years ago. By using two cars and the wife of one companion a very large area can be covered without back-tracking. One car can be left at the point where the party expects to leave the woods or the stream. Another can be used to drive them to the headwaters or to the starting point.

We have told of times when our fishing trips required two hours of walking to get to the headwaters, a day of fishing down the stream, and another hour or two to walk home from the stream's mouth. Today you could be dropped at the headwaters and a car could be left at the mouth. A half day of useless walking would be eliminated.

The same is true of those who like to explore. They could be dropped far back in the woods, say in the Cherry Grove area, and could work their way over the hills through the wildest of country to a point on the highway, perhaps two or three miles from town. If they got lost they would need only follow a stream down to a roadway, and a scouting car on the downstream roads would pick them up.

TIONESTA ATTRACTIONS

We were reminded of these advantages by an article which appears in the May issue of the Pennsylvania Angler. Written by W. T. Patterson, it discusses the Tionesta Creek and its feeders, which he describes as 'A Troutin' Dream.'

The article is accompanied by a map of the Tionesta, with all the feeder streams and towns identified. It suggests ways to fish various portions of the area, including the points to start and the places to leave the second car.

Portions of the Tionesta during the months when plenty of water is flowing can be fished from a boat. Here the double car idea comes in handy. The fishermen can canoe down the stream casually, fishing as they go and stopping near the good holes. An auto-top boat can be used, also.

This float-down, as some call it, can be real sport, and need not be limited to fishermen. Those who like to take pictures will find an early morning trip or a late afternoon and early evening float very fascinating and productive.

The Tionesta is a stream with much character. It starts just a few miles from the river, but goes east toward Clarendon. This is the West Branch, which forms the Chapman dam lake. It then swings down and picks up the waters of such streams as Farnsworth, Six Mile, Four Mile, Two Mile, Arnot, East Branch, South Branch, Blue Jay, Upper Sheriff, Lower Sheriff, Minister, Bobbs, Little Minister, Fork, Salmon, Lamentation, Bear, and Ross.

It goes through Clarendon, Sheffield, Barnes, Henrys Mills, Mayburg, and Kellettville. The wildest kind of country surrounds much of it, and it erupts into Tionesta where it is formed into a large lake by the Tionesta dam. It then enters the river not many miles below the point where its West Branch would have if the topography of the land hadn't taken it east.

The kind of fishing, the fishing methods, the country through which it flows, and other related characteristics are as interesting as they are varied. It is a very unusual stream right at our elbow, and should be fully enjoyed by all of us who like the outdoors, no matter what facet of its attractions moves us to do so.

PYMATUNING WORTH VISIT

There is much to be seen at the Pymatuning waterfowl sanctuary and museum and the area nearby to justify a trip by you, and the family, some day when you are looking for something different to do. The Pennsylvania Game Commission says that visitors usually are "incredulous at what they discover -- it's so different from elsewhere in Pennsylvania. There, in the northwestern part of the state, are scenic beauties and waterfowl and fish enough on view to challenge the imagination."

The Commission's release continues, "A 'must' in the area is the Game Commission's Pymatuning Museum, which is now open. It houses and attractively displays without charge a wide variety of mounted specimens of migratory waterfowl in seasonal plumage. This permits a rare opportunity to study ducks and geese as they appear at various times of the year. Other mounted specimens of birds that inhabit the locality also are on display there.

"Each year many thousands of persons from other states and Canada as well as Pennsylvania, and sometimes from far-off countries, visit this fabulous area and the Museum. Teachers from the Commonwealth and neighboring Ohio often take pupils to Pymatuning to learn about wild waterfowl particularly and to benefit generally from a wonderful outdoor experience."

DISTRICT 10 TRACK

Warren County thinclads faired quite well at District 10 track and field competition at Erie last week end and this Saturday will send a pair to the Class A PIAA competition at Penn State and 16 to Class B activity.

Warren's Ron Bowen hurled the discus 130-2 3/4 to take first place in the district and qualified for a state berth. The other local Class A contender will be Bob Swanson, who ran a second in the mile next to Moorhead of Harborcreek.

This pair helped the Dragon thinclads to place fourth behind powerful Erie Academy, Harborcreek, and Erie East. Others placing, but not qualifying for state, were Jon Weidmaier, Suppa (2), the 880-relay team, Kremer (2), Mohnkern, Lindquist and Tremblay. Besides the mile, Swanson also placed fourth in the 880.

Youngsville will enter six events in Class B Saturday. Earning the honors were Moniak, whose 24.2 220-yard run was a new district record; Smith, 2nd, 440; McMeans, 1st, 880; and Brenneman, 1st, 180-yard low hurdles. Also the 880-relay team (Gruttaria, Smith, Moniak, Brenneman), which tied its own district record of 1:37.5; and the mile relay team (McMeans, Smith, Moniak, Borton).

The Eagle speedsters won the Class B title on their track strength with 49 1/2 points and Northern Area ended in second.

A strong field team, Northern Area will send seven entries to State College on the basis of their week end performance.

The following placed first or second to qualify: Wightman, 1st in the 220 and the javelin; Rowland, first in both the shot put and discus; Williams and Angove shared a three-way tie in the pole vault; Hook was in a three way tie for second in the high jump. The Blue and Gold 880 relay team (Rowland, Wightman, Darts, Work), crossed the finish line second.

DRAGONS CLOSE SEASON

Coach Loyal Briggs and the Dragon track and field men drew the 1957 campaign to a close on the Beaty oval Wednesday afternoon with a 70 1/2-56 1/2 loss to strong Erie Academy, but still completed the regular season with a fine 5-2 record. This does not include the Section Two championship and a fourth place in District 10.

The Blue and White thinclads managed to grab five first places and a tie for another against the visiting Erieites, and added more points with seven seconds and four and one-half thirds.

Moving the best for Warren on the cinders was Bob Swanson, mile, 4:49.2. The rest of the winners were in the field with Dick Kremer, shot put, 44-1, and high jump, 5-7; Ron Bowen, discus, 131-6; Jim Mohnkern, javelin, 152-11; and Tremblay, a tie in the pole vault, 10-6. 1/2, his best of the season.

Grabbing a second place spot for Warren were Jack Suppa, Bob Van Blois, Bob Saunders, Ed Rickerson, John Berdine, Ross Kremer, and Jon Wiedmaier.

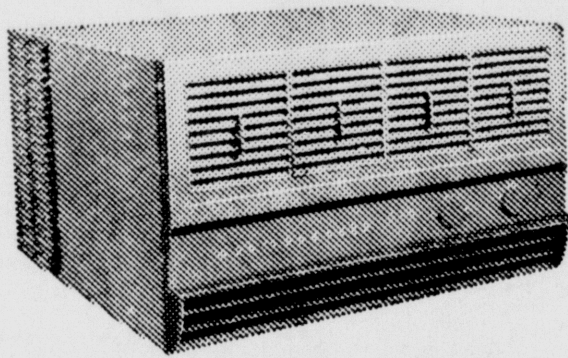

MEMORIAL DAY RACE

The Pinegrove Speedway near Shippensburg will play host to the annual modified and hardtop division championship race on Memorial Day.

On the program are fast dashes, elimination heats and time trials at 12:30, with the main events starting at 2:30. The rain date is Sunday, June 2.

CHAMPS HONORED. The St. Joseph's bowling team, season winner of the Knights of Columbus league, were honored at a dinner held at the council rooms last week.

The team members were each presented the Father Nicholas Russo trophy and Frank Filesi, league president and team captain, accepted the Dr. J. T. Valone trophy for the team. Mr. Filesi was also presented an achievement award for recording the most improved average in the league.

Frank Gerardi's 692, highest three-game total in Warren County, earned him an engraved lighter from Thad Lawson. He is also entitled to an award from the Warren Bowling association and the ABC.

League officers named at the dinner were incumbent Frank Filesi, president; John Salamon, vice-president; Bob Haben, treasurer; Joe Musante and Angelo Juliano, co-secretaries.

MR. AND MRS. ANTHONY PAPALIA

Miss Ruth O. Wickersham, the daughter of Mrs. Fannie C. Wickersham and Mr. W. Clifford Wickersham of Quakertown, and Anthony S. Papalia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Papalia of 18 Eddy st., Warren, were united in marriage Saturday, May 18, in St. Joseph's Church.

The new bride, a graduate of Quakertown high school and the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, is a member of the Angelaires Harp Quintet.

Mr. Papalia, a former faculty member of the Warren public school system, graduated from high school here and Oberlin College. He is presently serving as a lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force with an assignment to the Ground Control Interceptor site in Japan.

The newlyweds took a honeymoon trip to Ohio.

ALAN H. TEMPLETON

Alan H. Templeton, a member of the Warren National Bank staff, was reelected president of the YMCA at the board of directors' meeting Monday evening.

Bridge — Play

MARCONI BRIDGE

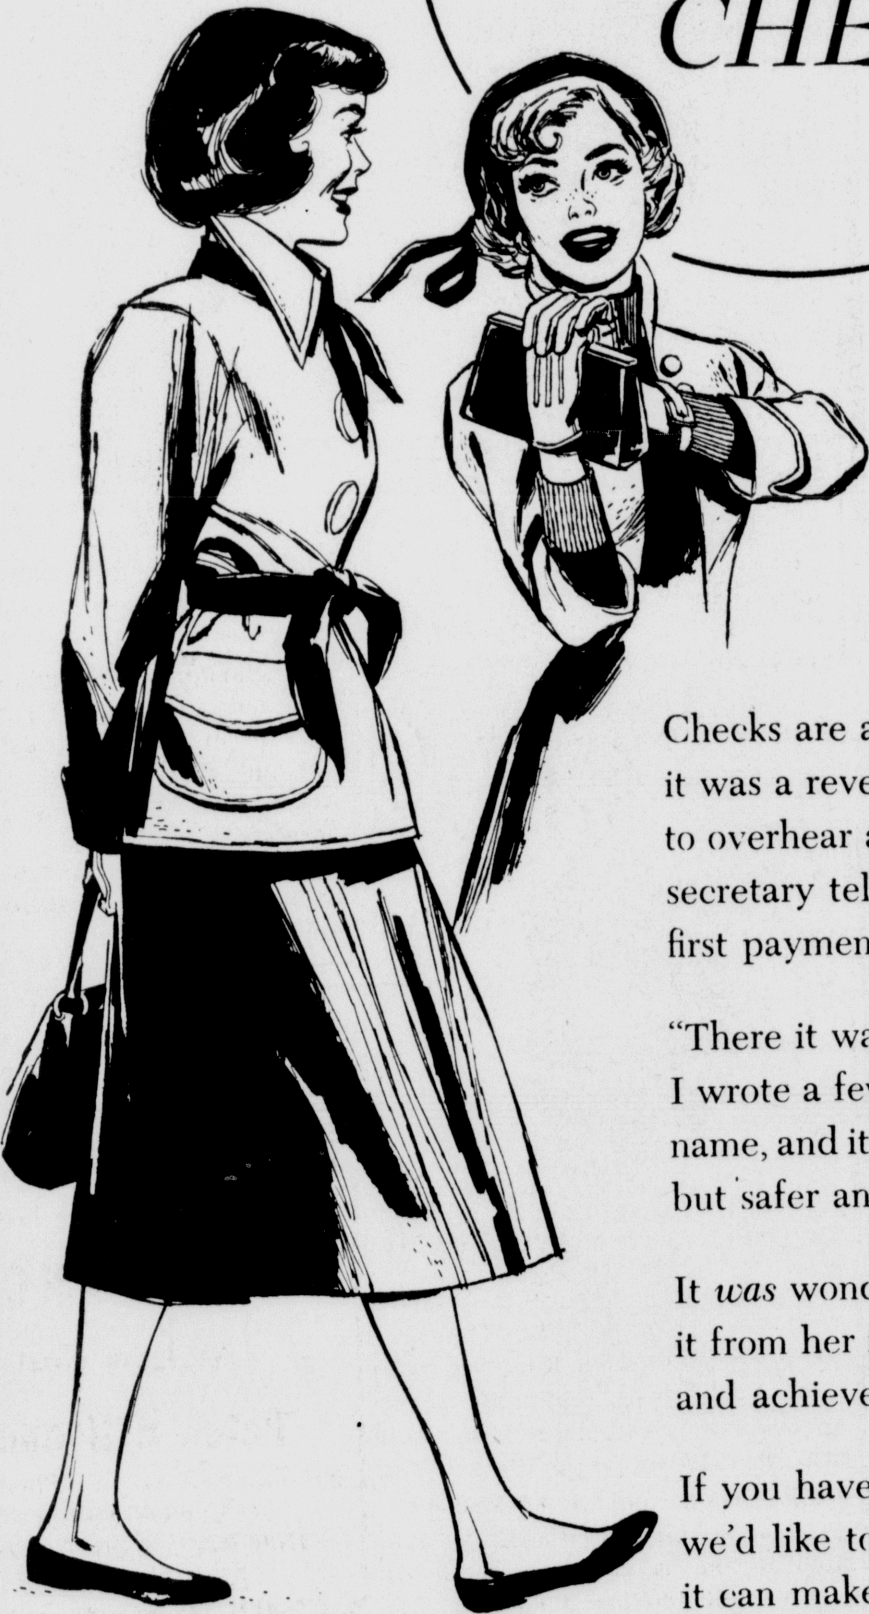

A Mitchell movement was used with nine tables in play when the Marconi Bridge Club members met last Monday evening for their weekly tournament. Maximum was 216, with an average of 108, for both fields. Top scores went to the following:

North-South -- Mrs. Helen Rockwell and N. Anthony Scalise, 132; D. L. Vetera and A. J. Bova, 126-1/2; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Conaway, Sr., 122-1/2; Mrs. Marian Thompson, Jamestown, and M. A. Kornreich, 114-1/2; Harry D. Kopf, Jr., and James Torrance, 106-1/2.

East-West -- Dr. R. H. Israel and James R. Valone, 129; Mrs. M. A. Kornreich and Henry Hunzinger, 125; Dr. Hoshino and Dr. Reinhardt, 119; Mr. and Mrs. J. Howell, 117; Mrs. David Cropp and Mrs. Fred Weigle, 116-1/2.

"I just signed
MY FIRST CHECK!"

Checks are an old story to us, and it was a revelation the other day to overhear a nineteen-year-old secretary tell a friend about her first payment by check.

"There it was, a piece of paper. I wrote a few words on it, signed my name, and it was as good as money—but safer and less trouble."

It was wonderful, and we realized it from her feeling of surprise and achievement.

If you haven't a checking account, we'd like to show you how pleasant it can make life.
